OVATION FROM START TO FINISH
FOR THE BOYS LEAVING SUNDAY

The Nye county volunteers who expect to leave here Sunday morning will have a continuous ovation from the big reception at home on Saturday afternoon until they arrive at general recruiting headquarters at 669 Market street, San Francisco, according to the statement made this morning by Sergeant Manuel Jeffrey, in charge of the present recruiting drive. At 10 o'clock this morning the list of volunteers had reached a total of 42 by the addition of the names of Alexander McMath and William A. Woodward, of Goldfield, and Harry H. Bergman and Frank J. Crane of Tonopah. Bergman is the well-known barber who has had experience in the army since he was one of the first in Nevada to enlist for the Spanish-American war and he says he could no longer resist the bugle call for men to defend the colors.

The camp has been stirred to the core by the wave of enthusiasm arising from the acceptance of so many young patriots from the midst of a busy people and preparations for giving the Liberty lads a good send off are going ahead at a rapid pace. The ladies of the Junior Red Cross are busy filling the comfort kits which generous subscriptions at the street stands yesterday made possible. Helen Case and Helen Spratt are active in arranging for lunches to accompany the boys and every lodge and society in the district has sent out summons for every available man to show up for the grand march to the depot Sunday morning. The fraternities heard from so far are the Elks, Moose, Eagles, Knights of Columbus, Serbian society, the Red Cross society, boy and girl scouts, Grand Army and Women's Relief Corps. They say they will turn out to the last man, woman or child and, of course, the Muscular Union band and the Tonopah Drum Corps will be there to lead the 70 volunteers expected to go out on that morning which will be the most memorable in the history of the camp. On arriving at Reno the detachment will be met by the governor and Mayor Hyington and the patriotic societies who will escort the Nye county contingent to the Y. M. C. A. rooms, where they will be billeted for the night. They will also receive a further physical examination and leave for San Francisco Monday morning. On arriving at San Francisco the boys will be met by one of the regimental bands from the Presidio and a procession will be formed to signalize the arrival of this distinguished bunch of desert rats and to escort them to general recruiting headquarters at 669 Market street. This will be the first time in San Francisco that a demonstration for volunteers has occurred and the old town is going to make the most of the occasion since the loyal citizens of that burg have begun to realize the difference between the conscript and the men who offer their services freely to their country. Next day the boys will go out to Fort McDowell, where they will receive another and final physical examination and, if they pass this test, will be enrolled in the army of the United States. Uniforms will be distributed and the boys will then be assigned to their several training stations throughout the country. Some of the men will go into the artillery, others to the infantry, some to the aviation and a few to the engineers and cavalry.

All those in Nye and Esmeralda counties who have enlisted during the present recruiting drive must report to the recruiting officers at the Elks hotel between the hours of 4 and 5 p. m., Saturday, July 13. This is absolutely necessary so that the proper arrangements may be made for transportation and to assist the Red Cross in determining the number of kit bags to be distributed. As the boys from Nye county go marching up Market street, San Francisco, under the leadership of Corporal Shoemaker and tripping lightly to the strains of the Presidio musicians they will be identified by silk badges bearing the legend under the American flag: "Nye County, Nevada, Volunteer."

On Saturday night there will be a big blowout to which everybody is invited to have the pleasure of sharing in a dance with the gallant volunteers at the Airdome. After the

SUBS SUNK BOY TELLS IN LETTER

TONOPAH BOY TELLS OF THE
SINKING OF TWO SUBS OFF
HALIFAX

Louis Haviland, of Tonopah, who entered the navy in San Francisco June, 1917, has been heard from by his mother, Mrs. S. A. Haviland in a letter received today bearing the Halifax, N. S., postmark, in which the boy says: "Dear Mother: Just a few lines to say hello. As you know I am well. Well, mother dear, keep your eyes peeled for the war news for a couple of days and, if you read of a couple of subs being sunk off Nova Scotia, you will know that it was the 247 and the 241 that did the trick. That is what happened on the first day of July when we were convoying some ships to sea at 3.30 in the afternoon of the first. The people here are wild over it. Forty of our party are the guests tonight of the American Red Cross, which is giving a big blowout. Don't worry, mother dear, no one was hurt. The subs did not get a chance to fire a shot at us. We hope to get a crack at some more of them. It happened just forty miles at sea. We all think it was the same bunch that raised hell around New York. I hope it is. Tell Tom (Tommy Gibbons) I will write him tomorrow. I must close now for it is time for the forty to start. The 247 has the reputation now of sinking the first sub on this side of the Atlantic."
